
Using this picture as inspiration, can you plan and write a story. The planning can take any format that you like from spider diagrams of ideas to a full plan.

Your story needs to have a cleat structure of opening, build up, problem, resolution and ending. It should also include the following elements:

- Paragraphs
- Great use of adjectives to describe characters and setting
- A range of punctuation
- Conjunctions to extend your sentences
- A range of sentence types to enhance your story
