I can settle into learning quickly I am not distracted easily I can tolerate feelings without getting upset I can use my initiative I have a growth mindset I can listen well I can act on advice and feedback I practise things I find difficult I know my strengths and weaknesses I can think about how I learn	I can share ideas I can work well as a team I can respond well to other people I can listen well to others I value ideas from others I can explain to help others I can ask for support when needed	I show perseverance I am not put off by being stuck I always try my hardest I try different strategies I start on task quickly I always have a go I show resilience I don't worry if it goes wrong I keep improving	I often wonder "why?" I can ask questions I try to find out why I can look for patterns and connections and make links I notice things I become engrossed in what I am doing I am excited to try new things I can share and show things I have a "what next?" attitude	I feel pleased I've made progress I follow expectations I always aim for very best I am keen to impress I enjoy learning I sit in a good work mode I don't continue to receive the same next steps I can ask questions I can put my hand up regularly and contribute answers I can talk about learning
